HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.
Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigation and inquiries possesses true worth, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit these well known facts—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eye, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.
It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population, whether are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, never feel well; they are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.
Thousands of certificates have been furnished in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of caste and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.
HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 18, 1867.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Tonic,' useful in diseases of great debility, and want of nervous action."
A man Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and in the system.
Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, have in all cases declined; but with a clear conscience can now say that proof is various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

THE UNFINISHED PRAYER.

"Now I lay"—say it darling;
"Lay me," lisped the tiny lips
Of my daughter, kneeling, bending
O'er her folded finger-tips.

"Down to sleep"—"To sleep," she murmured,
And the curly head drooped low;
"I pray the Lord"—I gently added,
"You can say it all, I know."

"Pray the Lord"—the words came faintly,
Fainter still—"My soul to keep;"
Then the tired head fairly nodded,
And the child was fast asleep.

But the dewy eyes half opened,
When I clasped her to my breast,
And the dear voice softly whispered,
"Mamma, God knows all the rest."

O, the trusting, sweet confiding
Of the child heart! Would that I
Thus might trust my Heavenly Father,
Who hears my feeblest cry.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS.

Visit to the Soldiers' Orphans School at Cassville, Huntingdon County, Pa.

LETTER FROM THE LADY INSPECTOR AND EXAMINER.

Correspondence of the Press.

CASSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 7, 1868.

Cassville is a pleasant little village in Huntingdon county, Pa., situate in what is known as the Trough Creek Valley, about sixteen miles from Mill Creek, a Station on the Central Pennsylvania Railroad. Here is located one of the schools for the orphans of soldiers and sailors, who sacrificed their lives in defence of their country in the war for the suppression of the rebellion. There are between forty and fifty such schools in the State, affording an asylum and a home to over four thousand orphan children. Among these the school at Cassville enjoys a deserved prominence, as well for the beauty of its location, the picturesqueness of the mountain scenery surrounding it, the capacious and convenient character of the buildings, and the excellence of its management, with Rev. Prof. A. L. Guss at its head.

There are two main buildings, both of them substantial brick structures, one known as the Home, and the other as the School. The Home has a frontage of 32 by 82 ft., four-stories high, with dining-room, kitchen, wash-room, bake-room, store-room, swinging department, reception-room, sleeping apartments, &c. The school has a frontage of 32 by 62 feet, two-stories high, surmounted by a cupola and a clear-ringing, silver-toned bell. These buildings were originally erected under Methodist auspices, as a college, and since their purchase by Prof Guss, have been enlarged and improved. The water arrangements throughout both the buildings are unexceptionable—indeed, it is but seldom that outside of our large cities this important branch of a public institution has been so adequately supplied. Hence the cleanliness of the institution and of its inmates excites no surprise. In the Cassville School they have an abundance of pure, fresh water, and the general appearance of the buildings and the occupants furnishes gratifying proof that whatever the economy that characterizes their other operations, their expenditure of water is on a prodigal scale. The Cassville School is, as a city, "set on a hill," and hence "cannot be hid." It is erected on the brow of a mountain, rising at its rear in solemn and picturesque gradeur. Near the top of this mountain the land pushes forth in perennial freshness a delightful spring, which serves to supply the school with its abundant and excellent water.

The school, as stated, is under the direction of Rev. A. L. Guss, as principal, whose efficiency, energy, and devotedness in the prosecution of the important work committed to him are worthy of the highest commendation. He is assisted by the following teachers, all of them confessedly competent: A. H. Weidman, S. W. Heaton, Wm. Lytle, Capt. W. S. Owen, (a brave returned soldier), Miss C. A. Phillips, and Miss A. C. Simmington. The male attendant is Mr. J. F. H. Spicer, who is a most valuable adjunct of Prof. Guss. Mrs. Mary C. McCauly, a soldier's widow, has the management of the sewing department, and imparts instruction, also, in needle work to the children. The accomplished wife of Professor Guss is the matron, assisted by Miss Rindlaub, her sister. The farming department is under the superintendence of Mr. J. H. Rindlaub, who instructs the boys in agriculture.

There are at present, in this school, a grand total of 205 soldiers' orphans, viz.—107 boys and 98 girls. There have been admitted, since its opening, 267 children, the remainder having been honorably discharged on age. It is noteworthy, that two of the girls have been respectably married, and are now proving themselves prudent and industrious wives. The dress of the boys in all the soldiers' orphan schools, for every day, is Army Blue; the Sunday dress consists of gray pants, and blue coats with army buttons. The dresses of the girls for Sunday consists of blue merino, with the American Eagle button, brown colored hats, and black sacks. The girls' week day dress are a red plaid flannel, trimmed with black buttons.—Cassville is designated an Advance School, no pupil being admitted under ten years of age.

My present visit here was on the occasion of the commemoration of the third anniversary of the institution, and I can truly say that my heart was greatly rejoiced at what I saw and heard. Oh, that every member of our State Legislature could have been present, to be an eye-witness of the scene! I am sure not a whisper of objection would have been heard to the amplest appropriations to carry forward this noble work! No money drawn from the State Treasury is more usefully expended—none should the people pay into it more cheerfully—none should their representative more cordially grant!

The anniversary exercises consisted of singing, reading, recitations, dialogues, and a general review of all the studies, and most admirably did the children acquit themselves. Among the number, a little girl, between 12 and thirteen years old, Amanda Morgan by name, read a composition of her own, in the most pathetic manner, bringing tears to the eyes of all the spectators. The production was read with faultless emphasis. The subject of her essay was "The History of the Cassville School," and with her permission I send you an extract:

Though our principal and their employees are doing all in their power to make us happy, they can never replace our fathers who fell in that noble cause, which they felt it their duty, at the sacrifice of their lives, to defend. My dear father! Ah, well do I remember the day he left his happy home, to share the hardships of a soldier's life, as a private in Co. K, Regiment 87, Pennsylvania Volunteers. Well did he fill his place! Oh, how anxious were his little family for his safety! How gladly did we all look forward to the coming of his ever welcome letters. Oft we feared he was among the fallen or wounded. At last, in an unexpected hour, our worst fears were realized! On the battle field of the Shenandoah he was wounded. Our dear mother prepared to go to him. But soon the message came that our dear father was dead! Oh, how sad the news! How appalling the shock! Father gone to the land from which none can recall him! Truly, that was a cruel war! Oh, how many thousands of firesides were made desolate! How many hearts were made to bleed by this needless rebellion. The war is over, but the miseries it entailed can never be forgotten. Thank God, that the sacrifice was not made in vain! They died, but our country lives! The beautiful banner, with the stars and stripes, is floating in the breeze, all over our beloved country, now ten thousand times dearer to us, because beneath its starry folds our fathers fell, and with them thousands of their fellow-countrymen.

When I state that the composition, of which the above is an extract, was read by this little Miss, with fluency, feeling, and emphasis, need any of your readers wonder that there was not a dry eye in the audience. All wept, and all echoed "cruel, cruel war!" Let us never forget the debt we owe to the children of the brave men who saved our country.

Among the young Misses, who also delivered beautiful original addresses, her own composition, was Amanda Wehn, about twelve years old, and Julia Gault delivered a difficult extract from "Paradise Lost."

The compositions of the boys were also exceedingly beautiful, and impressively read, but my time and your space, both valuable, prevent me from furnishing extracts.

Harper Snyder, one of the soldiers' orphans, a sprightly, intelligent boy, whose term in the school has expired, remains in the institution, under the care of Prof. Guss, having the Gospel minist

The "Globe" has the largest number of readers of any other paper published in the county. Advertisers should remember this.

☞ Ex-Governor Tod of Ohio, died suddenly at Youngstown in that State on the 13th, aged 64 years.

☞ Gen. Grant declined a public reception and demonstration in Washington. He wants to be let alone.—He gives the noisy politicians the cold shoulder.

☞ The Adjutant General of the Army has made his annual report to the Secretary of War. The actual strength of the regiments in service on the 30th of September was 43,741 men. It is stated that 4,500 men will be discharged before New Year's, by reason of the expiration of their term of service.

☞ The influence of the results of the elections is having a good effect in the Southern States. Those disposed to fight it out on the rebel line, see, by the triumphant election of Grant that he will have peace, and will fight it out on his old line if necessary.—They have taken the hint and are behaving themselves better.

☞ It is gratifying to the local friends of Hon. John Scott to know that very many of the leading and best men in every part of the State are using his name favorably in connection with the important position of United States Senator. The election of Mr. Scott would give the Union Republican party of Pennsylvania a proud position in the Senate of the United States.

☞ Gen. Grant pays no attention to letters received from those seeking office. He has been overwhelmed with private and confidential epistles from thousands who would not object to make themselves generally useful in some fat governmental position. The letters are either burned before they are opened, or entrusted to the care of an Adjutant who mercilessly packs them into a huge waste basket.

THAT DIAMOND ISLAND.—We publish in another column a lengthy but interesting account of the discovery of a diamond island in the Pacific Ocean, said to be the work of a recent earthquake. We do not place implicit confidence in the story as published, but give it to our readers for what it is worth, and to show how persons may be deceived—if deception it proves to be. It may and it may not be another illustration of the old adage "that all is not gold that glitters."

MEETING AND ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.—Tuesday last was the day fixed for the meeting of Congress should it be thought necessary on account of President Johnson's peccadillos—but it was not so thought, there was therefore a very slim attendance. Only five Senators were present and six Representatives. After a short prayer in each House, both bodies were declared adjourned without day by Speaker Colfax and Vice President Wade. The session lasted only five minutes. This completes the adjourned session of the fortieth Congress.—The second regular session will commence on the first Monday of December, to continue until the 4th of March.

☞ Political feeling was pretty high in town last week until the suit between the Monitor and Sheriff Neely was settled. Capt. Neely asked for justice, nothing more. He knew the Monitor's charges were false and did not fear a legal investigation. The editor of the Monitor, when he became convinced of the falsity of the charges he published against the Captain, honorably retracted and agreed to do so publicly. Capt. Neely is now more favorably known to the people of the county than he could have been had the libelous charges not been made against him—and Mr. Cornman has learned how unsafe it is to believe what he don't know or see himself.

"ORDER No. 1."—General Grant, though not legally constituted President yet, has commenced work upon the foundation. It is said that he refuses to even read letters of application for office, and directs them to be destroyed. What do ye earnest, active, sweating politicians think of this order? If you had known that such was to be the fate of the missives you expected to send to Grant when he was elected would you have toiled so diligently? But no matter what you thought then, you have now to contemplate the folly of "pushing things" on your strength as a politician" merely. We are glad General Grant has commenced in the beginning to disregard all communications of the office-seekers, and we have no doubt he will persevere. What sense is there in trammelling him with such communications? How is it expected that he knows the character of every man who applies for position?

We have politicians in our midst who will perhaps, since they have learned that Grant deals thus mercilessly with communications, seek some other channel of obtaining position. Whatever they do, we say don't bother Grant, as you may be sure he won't b[illegible]

HON. JOHN SCOTT.

[We find the following article in the editorial columns of the Johnstown Tribune of Friday last. Coming from the home of Hon. D. J. Morrell, our popular and influential Congressman, it is fair to suppose that it speaks his honest sentiments, which must give it great force throughout the State:]

From the Johnstown Tribune.

"Pennsylvania has done nobly. Her estimated majority of fifteen thousand swells under the official count to thirty thousand. The young, vigorous, and progressive Northwest, with its almost homogeneous population and immense Republican majorities, cannot run away from us. New York, once called the Empire State, has thrown her vote away and the South is no longer an imperial power—not even a balance of power in the nation, but Pennsylvania holds her place, and her voice determines the fate of policies and parties.

Thirty thousand majority! What shall we do with it? Well, we ought to keep it and we can. It is a great power, which will be ours for years to come if we use it wisely, and we shall not lose it unless by some false step—some retrograde movement, we cease to be the party of the people.

The election of Grant has opened a new fountain of office and honor in the nation, and its pure streams will purge away foul corruption in high places. No individual or ring or clique brought him forward, or nominated him, or elected him, and he can make unbiased choice of all officers within his appointing power. He has been always noted for his knowledge of men, and has never failed to put the right man in the right place. The country looks forward to an efficient and honest administration of national affairs. Public credit has again improved, the funds have again become stronger, and gold is cheapened once more by another and the greatest of Grant's victories.

What shall we do with the victory in Pennsylvania? The majority upon the State ticket in the October election did not quite reach ten thousand. Allowing five thousand for the Democratic fraudulent vote in Philadelphia and elsewhere, there is still an immense increase of fifteen thousand votes for Grant to be accounted for.—It was partly by Republicans, but largely by men whose patriotism rose superior to party ties, and who should be hereafter relied upon to vote the Republican ticket. To assure this—to make Pennsylvania as certainly and as strongly Republican as Massachusetts or Iowa, we want several things, but we especially want—may we say it without offense?—leadership. We have had in State politics plenty of managing, wire-pulling and faction-fighting, but we have not had—we must be pardoned for saying it—leadership.

By giving Simon Cameron, whose report as Secretary of War upon the employment of colored troops constitutes a landmark in our national history, a colleague of distinguished character and ability, Pennsylvania will elevate her State politics, and for the first time secure complete leadership in the Senate of the United States.—We say for the first time, for it is no disparagement to the worthy men made Senators by the Whig, Democratic and Republican parties, in days past, to say that, though some of them, as Buchanan for instance, were successful politicians, they were not in a national sense great statesmen. Thus Pennsylvania has been partly dwarfed in the national councils, her ablest men have represented merely a Congressional district, and State politics have been in the hands of rival cliques, directed by men who could manage but could not not lead. We do not disparage them. We do not deny that they were good men of business, worthy fathers of families, and useful men in their day and generation, but their most fervent admirers would not claim for them the ability of Clay, Webster or Calhoun, nor would they desire to measure themselves with Senators from other States who are known to England and France as Bright and Thiers are known in this country.

Republicans of Pennsylvania! You have had servants who have not served you; you have had, you now have, faithful servants, and we honor them, but on behalf of Grant's thirty thousand majority we ask for a leader in the Senate of the United States. He should be a great lawyer, because it remains for the National Legislature to shape the verdict just rendered by the people, determining the status of the seceded States and the industrial and financial policy of the nation. He should possess varied scholarship, a high order of eloquence, and should be of pure personal character. Large requirements these; but the bar of the State, the bench, and thousands of its citizens will agree with us in saying that they are more than filled by JOHN SCOTT of Huntingdon. He is a man of the Schuyler Colfax type—honest beyond cavil, earnest in everything, ideal by instinct, with a mind capacious of principles, pure in his associations, and a devoted lover of his country. He is a very Scot of Scotts, as everybody knows who knows him, and the tunica laticlatvia can all upon no one who will wear it more becomingly.

Brother Republicans! We say nothing against the worthy and able men who are nominated by the Press of the State, but you know that several citizens are persistently pushing themselves for this place. It is said that one has the thing all set up, and is sure of it. Our enemies say it is a matter of bargain and sale, and that another candidate has the money deposited to secure it. John Scott has not sought the office and will not use any low arts to obtain it. We had hoped to be first to nominate him in the name of the people, but the Senator of the bar has already done so, and we second the motion. If it could be left to the people to decide, it would be carried by at least Grant's majority."

[We are proud that as much can be truthfully said of our townsman Hon. John Scott. If the selecting of a U. S. Senator could be left with the people who know Mr. Scott best, he would be the unanimous choice.]

A "strike" is in progress among the coal miners on the Philipsburg branch.

☞ Vice President Colfax recently said in a speech at Pittsburgh:

"I do not think Wade Hampton will make any more platforms for the Democratic party. I do not think Vallandigham will nominate any more Presidents. I do not think Preston and Forrest will nominate any more Vice Presidents."

We rather think to the contrary. Is it to be supposed that the Democracy will throw overboard such men as Hampton, Vallandigham, Preston and Forrest? Judging from their assertions since the election, the Democracy do not blame these men for their defeat, but rather Seymour and Blair. They deem it better to blame their unsuccessful candidates than the men who by their very prominence helped to defeat them. Hampton, Preston and Forrest have an influence upon the Democracy of the South, and if the Democracy of the North should repudiate them, or fail to recognize them or their friends in any future convention, they would enlist the democracy of the South against the ticket, and put up their own men. The fact is, the Democracy of the North is under the thumb of the Democracy of the South, and they must submit to their dictation in the future as they did at the convention in New York. Of course so long as they do—and no one can tell how long—just so long will they be repudiated by the people of the North, and it will not need so "popular" a candidate as Gen. Grant to put against their man in order to defeat them. The loyal people of the North and South have rendered their verdict against Southern aristocracy and secessionism, and they will stand by that verdict so long as they see that the democracy is headed by the spirits of discord and the ghosts of secession.

☞ Elsewhere we give by counties the vote in Pennsylvania at the Presidential election. The whole number of votes polled for

Grant	342,280
Seymour	313,382
Republican majority	28,898

A comparison of results at the two elections, shows:

Total in November	655,662
" " October	653,155
Increase	2,507
The aggregate Republican vote,
In November was	342,280
In October	331,416
Increase	10,864
The aggregate Dem. vote,
In October, was	321,739
In November	313,382
Loss	8,357

These figures indicate that the vote was about full at each of the elections, the excess in November being only 2,507 over the October poll. Upon this presumption it would appear that six to eight thousand men who voted with the Democrats in October, voted with the Republicans in November.

☞ Prize fights are becoming as numerous as murders. If no efforts are made to punish those engaging in and encouraging such brutal exhibitions, every town and village will soon have their "prize rings."

A WONDERFUL PHENOMENON.

The Late Earthquake Throws Up Islands of Pure Gems from the Bed of the Pacific.

To the Editor of the Saint Louis Times:

One of the most extraordinary stories ever read or written has since a late hour last night been gaining ground in certain quiet quarters of the city. It is so marvelous that one could scarcely believe it to be anything but the chimera of a madman's brain, if it were not confirmed by scientific facts, and by a vast number of the theories of modern philosophy. It is difficult to determine what amount of credibility we should attach to it, and it is best to let every man who reads the following paragraphs judge for himself. It will be remembered that the late catastrophe in South America occurred simultaneously with an extraordinary eclipse of the sun, which astronomers affirm, has not occurred before for two thousand years and will not occur again for two thousand years to come.

No event of equal magnitude to the late earthquake in South America has occurred since the days of Herculaneum and Pompeii; but the convulsion which overwhelmed those two cities was nearly local (so far as is known), and of scarcely any extent compared to the late catastrophe, which shook the entire continent of America, from the river Sacramento to Cape Horn, and which must have been felt with a thousand times more terrific force out in the wide Pacific. It must be borne in mind that geologists affirm that the crust of the earth in that quarter of the globe is much thinner than at others; and some of them even go so far as to say that the bed of the Pacific is formed of a submerged continent. At all events, the great majority of the islands of the Pacific archipelago are of volcanic formation, and navigators have been known to discover islands in these latitudes which they knew from their previous experience not to have existed some years before. It is now an established fact that the entire center of the earth is filled with a boiling ocean of liquid fire, which horrible and enormous masses is liable to the same changes of ebb and flow as the mighty mass of waters on the outside crust of our globe. This horrible reservoir has been described by Sir Charles Lyelo and other profound thinkers as the great furnace of nature, wherein are smelted all the metals,—gold, silver, lead, iron, platina, &c.,—and which are afterward pushed up to the surface by the volcanic action of the seething ocean beneath. It is here also that are produced the beautiful diamonds and crystalized stones, for it is now known that they owe the form and brilliancy they possess simply to the fact that they have been exposed to the high temperature which exists in the center of the earth. We could make diamonds out of charcoal, could we reach the proper degree of heat; but that can, perhaps, never be reached by any artificial means at the command of man. As we said above the ocean of liquid fire is subject to tidal motion, and it is to this fact must be attributed the fearful events that have desolated South America. The eclipse in the East Indias, where the sun and moon were in direct conjunction, must have created a stronger tidal current than has existed two thousand years; and this current, rushing back with accelerated velocity, shook the crust of the earth in the western homisphere (just as a wave of the ocean would shake the sides of an old oaken vessel) and vomitted up to the surface the seething masses of matter which had been agitated in its bosom for thousands of years. These masses, on coming in contact with lower temperature, instantly crystallized just as water crystallizes into ice in winter time.

The captain of a vessel, trading between San Francisco and Valparaiso, describes what he witnessed in the Pacific ocean, but in what latitude he keeps a secret to himself. This captain has, or rather had, a brother boarding in a house on North Fourth street, and it is a letter which he wrote to his brother that has given occasion to the rumors that are whispered about in that quarter of the city. The substance of the letter, as it has reached us, is mainly as follows:

When nearly half way on the voyage, and at the time the earthquake took place, a fearful phenomenon presented itself. The ocean became convulsed to its highest depths, and a terrible wave was swept along so high that, as the captain humorously said, he thought it would have landed him in the city of Quito. The seamen were terribly frightened, but the vessel was to rights again in less than ten minutes. The affair was a mere joke among the men, for they fancied it was one of the high tidal waves which are common in the Pacific. They continued their voyage, but towards midnight were alarmed by an extraordinary light which appeared in the heavens, and was first noticed on the larboard side, and which the ignorant and superstitious attributed to supernatural causes. The captain, who seems to be an intelligent and courageous man steered his vessel right in the direction of the light, and just before sunrise a sight of magnificence—such as no human eye has ever rested on—met his gaze. It was no less than a group of islands formed of huge masses of solid diamond of every color, and, in some places, of the purest brilliancy. The sailors fell into ecstasies, any one man, a half-breed from the Sandwich Islands, lost his senses so far that he would have thrown himself overboard if he had not been tied down. They sailed among the group the entire day, and found it to consist, on a rough calculation, at from 12 to 20 in number; but the exact number, or their relative size, there was no time to ascertain. They consist of a large, white flint rocks of crystallized shape (some places nearly transparent) which rise to a height of about 150 feet from the water. Thick layers of various metals are imbedded into them, and the diamonds form thick layers beside these latter. This is the general formation; but some of the smaller islands are composed nearly altogether of diamond, in which the emerald prevails. There are agate, opaque topaz, ruby, and, indeed, diamonds of every hue; but one island, which he describes as being almost seventy miles long by fifteen wide, consists of an entirely pure emerald without any admixture of foreign substance. It was difficult to effect a landing on any of the group. At length some of the men succeeded; but the captain himself, satisfied with what he had seen, did not leave the vessel.

The men describe the interior of the island on which they landed as consisting almost entirely of mud, which is gradually coagulating under the heat of the sun. A curious thing was, that the brilliants were seen in the muddy quarters of the island, lying about like huge boulders,—the smallest ones they saw being about 200 tons in weght; but there were numbers of others considerably larger. Of course there was no water or vegetation to be seen. The most curious effect the sight had on the men, both those in the vessel as well as those who visited the island, was that the extraordinary brilliancy sickened their stomach, and vomiting, followed by a copious discharge from the bowels, was the consequence. All efforts to detach portions of the diamond rock proved abortive; and it was out of question to attempt removing any of the great brilliant boulders. They made an attempt to detach portions of rock by means of a crowbar and sledge, but it was so hard all efforts were useless, and, though they had powder enough on board, they had no implements with which to drill the holes for blasting. The captain would have proceeded on his voyage to Valparaiso; but the men mutinied and obliged him to put back to Panama. He afterward, with the consent of the crew, ran the vessel on shore on the northern coast of Columbia, and, telegraphing to the owners that she was lost, came on as far as Aspinwall, from which city he wrote to his brother in St. Louis. He desired his brother to come along at once, and bring with him the finest and best tempered implements for blasting purposes, and if possible, a quantity of nitro glycerine. The brother departed for New York immediately, but, before going, he communicated the secret to a confidential comrade, through whom the news leaked out only as late as yesterday evening. I am told that it has already reached the ears of a rich jeweler in this city, who is about to start an expedition which he proposes to carry on himself. It is more than probable that the crew of the abandoned vessel have anticipated him; and if they were lucky enough to keep their secret and fit out a small craft with whatever they required on board, are now quarrying the diamond archipelago.

P. S.—I forgot to state that the captain writes that the entire bottom of the sea seemed as if glittering with gems for at least five miles from the islands. These will propably never be of use, for they must be huge rocks of diamond, and cannot be detached unless some better mode of blasting under than that already practiced can be invented. I forgot also to add my conjecture that the reason the diamond rock is seen in its full purity arises from the fact that they were projected right forward from the very centre of the earth. What the captain calls white transparent flint rock is probably some formation not known as yet to geologists. This will be better understood as soon as the place is explored.

☞ Persons wishing to economize in clothing their children, will do well to try metal-tipped shoes. Children invariably wear out their shoes at the toe first. Metal tips never wear out at the toe, and a pair of tipped shoes at an additional cost of a few cents, will more than outwear three pair of the same quality without them. They are manufactured by the American Shoe Tip Company, 85 Pearl Street, Boston. 1t*

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Brief Items.

We have been enjoying delightful weather during the past week.

Altoona is showing commendable enterprise in church improvements.

Being up with the lark, and being out on a lark, are two very different things.

The pike ponds about a mile and a half below town will be drained in a few days.

Butter is scarce, and rageth at forty. Are cows on a strike, or the milk-maids on a bender a la Grecian?

What a ridiculous spectacle would a man present if he wore the "Grecian Bend!" We would rather have the "cholic."

An editor out West boasts of having had a talk with a woman, and got the last word. We seriously doubt his statement.

We forgot to mention that Dr. Rieger, the jeweller, and his wife, departed for the land of their nativity—Germany.

A man named John R. Edwards, residing in Cambaia county, was considerably hurt by his horse falling upon him.

A passenger train of six cars ran from Pittsburgh to Altoona the other day in three hours and forty minutes.

Rev. S. H. Reid, now residing at Milton, Pa., preached at McConnellstown on Saturday and Sunday last.

Mr. Bryan has sold several building lots on the back road. The town is spreading in every direction.

Walker township has erected a new frame school house on the banks of the Juniata below Smithfield.

A little son of Mr. Jacob Snyder, of Altoona, fell into a privy vault at the Logan House the other night, and smothered to death. The boy's father resides at the House.

A German woman named Stiver and one of her children were fatally burned, recently, by a carbon oil explosion at Covode, Westmoreland county.

A revival of religion has been going on in Bedford, for some time past in the Methodist Church, and about 90 persons have professed conversion.

During a high wind in Altoona recently the walls of the new Methodist church were blown down, and the chapel adjoining was crushed. Nobody hurt.

We were happy last week to receive the names of many of our campaign subscribers who want the GLOBE continued. We have room for more.

The dead body of a child was recently found in a deserted house in Perrysville, Juniata county. It had been concealed in the garret for about a month. Cruel mother!

A fine buck was shot on the mountain near the Warm Springs, this county, on Saturday last, by Mr. John Barrack, of this place. When dressed it weighed 130 pounds.

We understand that Mr. E. C. Summers has purchased ground on Mr. Bryan's hill, north of town, on which he intends to erect a handsome building for summer resort.

The dead body of a man named McDonald was found near the railroad at Johnstown, with a terrible gash in his head. It was ascertained that he had been drunk and fell off the platform of the passenger train.

The walls of the new Blair county jail are rapidly going up. The Standard styles "it an ornament to the county town and a credit to the people of the county." What a pity such "ornaments" are necessary?

West Huntingdon is spreading itself. New houses are continually going up. The demand for lots still continues. Another year like the present will greatly increase our population.

E. C. Summers' sign is a curiosity. It beats the painter's brush—and after you get into the saloon you get what the sign represents, and good at that, and "fixins" in variety in the bargain.

The Mt. Union Times has again gone under. We think the experiment has failed often enough in that locality to satisfy printers and patrons that it costs something to keep a paper alive.

Would it not be as well if the borough fathers would require as good pavements in the main street as they do in the back streets. Some of the pavements where there is the most travel are nuisances—they are worse than no pavements at all.

One hundred and sixty-one ladies in Vineland, N. J., voted for President on last election day. They deposited their ballots in a separate box provided by themselves, and, of course, their votes were not counted by the judges.

Mr. Isaac Thomas, of Cold Spring Forge, was run over by the mail train west, recently, near Tyrone station, and had both legs crushed below the knees. We learn that his legs have been amputated and he is doing well.

Several young boys were on the street on Sunday night—at least one of the party was drunk. Where did they get the liquor? Some parents would be astonished if they knew how their children behave when running at large through the streets at night.

A little son of N. R. Griffiths, of Yoder township, Cambria county, fell down stairs, a couple of weeks since, with a butcher knife in his hand, and the knife penetrated his cheek and fleshy part of his head to the depth of five inches. He is recovering.

A young husband, a friend of ours, was treated the other night, a little after midnight, with the sweetest serenade he ever had in his life. It was the voice of his first born, a very charming and artless vocalist a few minutes old.

It is the general opinion of strangers that Huntingdon is the best point on the Pennsylvania railroad, between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, for manufacturing purposes. We predict that it will be a noisy business town before all the old donothings make room far more enterprising men.

Those of our citizens who witnessed the meteoric shower on the night of the 13th say that the majority, who didn't see it, missed a grand sight. One spectator says it filled his soul with delight to see the meteors playing behind the filmy clouds and shooting majestically across the heavens, leaving a luminous trail behind them. Wish we had seen them.

Prof. W. Howard Day, the colored divine, delivered a lecture upon "The March of Freedom around the World," in the Court House, on Wednesday evening last. The room was full, and the audience appeared to appreciate the speaker's eloquence and treatment of his subject, and he was frequently applauded.

The new Sheriff, Capt. Neely, will be sworn in this week, and undertake the responsibilities of the office. Ex-Sheriff Bathurst will continue in the jail until spring and assist the new Sheriff. Esquire Wright will also take his seat in the Board of County Commissioners this week—Mr. Warfel retiring. Mr. John Miller took his position as one of the Directors of the Poor the first of the month—Mr. Flenner retiring.

The Williamsburg Vindicator says, "Several capitalists, engineers and mineralogists, who were looking out a route for the contemplated railroad, passed through this place on Friday, 30th ult. We are informed that a charter will be applied for at the next Legislature for a road from Huntingdon, through Williamsburg, Newry, and to intersect the Pennsylvania Central at Johnstown.

The "Monitor" Libel Suit.

This case went before the Grand Jury last week, and a bill was found against the editor of the Monitor, Mr. J. S. Cornman. On Friday afternoon before the case was called up, Mr. Cornman signed the following paper, to be published in the Monitor this week, when Sheriff Neely agreed that the suit should stop.

"By reference to our report of proceedings in Court last week it will be seen that a nolle prosequi was entered in the prosecution brought against us by Sheriff Neely for publishing an article charging him with having been intoxicated. This action was taken at our request. The information given us, and upon which we made the charge, turned out upon examination to be a misstatement of facts. Personally we do not know Sheriff Neely to use intoxicating drink, and those who have known him longest and had the best opportunity of knowing his habits, assure us that he is a man of sobriety. Ascertaining these facts, and being unwilling to aggravate the feeling by a trial which has already been caused by our misinformation, we deemed that action, (stopping the proceedings,) and this statement, the better course for all parties, and but justice to the new Sheriff. J. S. CORNMAN.

Population.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In an editorial in your paper of the 11th inst., in regard to the increased vote and population of the borough of Huntingdon, you use the following language, to wit: "When the census was taken in 1860 the population was about 2500." I beg to correct this mistake. By the official census of 1860 the population of the borough of Huntingdon was as follows, to wit: White, male, 840; female, 899; free colored, male, 73; female, 78: total white 1739, colored 151; total population '90. If the number of inhabitants is now, as the vote at the late election indicates, about 3800, the population of our borough has doubled in the last ten years; and within the same period every foot of goound in the borough has more than doubled in value. What other borough in the State can say as much?

The total population of Huntingdon county by the census of 1860, was 27,810. Yours, &c., B.

WATSON'S PHILADELPHIA BUSINESS DIRECTORY, for 1869. We call the attention of our Merchants to this new and valuable little work of reference to the trade of Philadelphia, and commend its utility to every merchant buying goods, or doing business with Philadelphia to the extent of a thousand dollars a year. It will contain a classified list of all the merchants, manufacturers and professional men of Philadelphia, arranged in systematic alphabetical order, a well executed Lithographic Map of the city, and Views of the Public Buildings, with other objects of interest in and around the Quaker City. In ordering goods, directing correspondence, or ascertaining where to obtain any article of trade, or manufacture, it will be indispensable to our merchants. Such a work is much needed, and its popularity, and the standing of the publishers, is vouched for by the Daily Inquirer, Telegraph, and the leading daily and weekly press of Philadelphia. Messrs. ☞ MR. EDITOR:—Several of your correspondents, very old and respectable no doubt, seem to be wonderfully exercised as to the origin of our PLANTATION BITTERS. So long as these bitters are all that we represent them to be, we do not know that it makes any difference from whom they come, or from whence they originated; but for the information of the public generally, and old CAPT. WENTZ in particular, we will say that he told the truth, and that these Bitters originated in the West India Islands—that many of the ingredients have been favorably used for over a century, but our combination of Calisaya is entirely new, and our own. The rum and other materials are the same, and as your correspondent says, a better Bitters and Tonic is not made. We recommend them particularly for dyspeptics, fever, and ague, loss of appetite, and in all cases where a tonic and stimulant is required.

Patent Stump and Grubbing Machine.

The above machine, used for taking out stumps and grubbing, was patented by A. McKenney, of Maumee city Ohio, and has received many complimentary notices from the press, and is universally liked by those who have experimented with it and have it in use. A farmer who uses it once, will wonder how he got along without it. It is simple in its construction, readily used, and does perfect work. Explosion of a Locomotive.

Engine No. 46, used for hauling coal trains on the Hollidaysburg branch, exploded on Monday, at twenty minutes past one o'clock, just as the engineer started to run in on the siding near Portage Iron Works and in the vicinity of Duncansville. The engineer, Robert Patterson, and his fireman Philip Davis were both killed instantly. Mr. Patterson was thrown by the violence of the explosion a distance of about 800 feet, passing over the new Methodist church, across the pike, and above a dwelling house—alighting in the rear end of a lot. The force of the concussion mangled his body in a terrible manner—tearing every bit of clothing from his person and completely disemboweling him.—He came down in the vicinity of a fence and portions of his flesh were thrown between and against the palings. The fireman was knocked over the bank and against a fence a few yards from the engine. The explosion stripped the boiler, from the dome to the boiler head, but only that portion above the crown sheet. The remains of the deceased were taken to Hollidaysburg where an inquest was held over them. Both men were residents of Gaysport borough They were married, and each leave large families.—Mr. Patterson was about forty years of age and his fireman about fifty-two. The tracks under the driving wheels were broken but the engine did not leave the iron. When the explosion occurred she was forced forward a distance of about thirty yards. We have heard no reason assigned for the awful calamity, and as such accidents generally result fatally for those who may be on the engine at the time, the cause can only be conjectured. This engine was recently rebuilt at the works here, and was said to be one of the strongest of her class.—Altoona Vindicator.

THE FEELING AT THE CAPITOL.—The Cabinet-makers that throng the city have already begun to ply their vocation, and the Congressional directory has been thumbed and clipped until there is little left of it to furnish material for this industrious class of persons. Probably during the past few days enough proposals have been made for General Grant's acceptance, to supply all the administrations for a half-century to come. It is not un common to hear of one Democrat naming a dozen persons for the position of Secretary of the Treasury, that being apparently the office which most excites their solicitude. The number of original Grant men here is really astonishing. The departments throng with those who declare that Grant was their first and only choice for President, and hundreds insist that they would have resigned had Governor Seymour been elected. The class thus embraced does not include alone the overpaid clerks, who so vigorously press their twenty per cent. claims at each session of Congress, but several heads of Bureaus and Departments, Superintendents, Chiefs and other high officials. Altogether the political situation here since the election is very interesting.—Washington letter.

HOW FRANK P. BLAIR HEARD THE NEWS.—Frank P. Blair, the defeated Vice Presidential candidate of the Democracy, arrived in Chicago at an early hour Wednesday morning, and stopped at the Tremont House Very few of his party called upon him, the terrible rout they had experienced no doubt deterring them from confronting their nominee. After reading the morning papers, Frank remarked that he had been beaten like h—l, and that was the only way to be beaten. Some of his Republican friends casually mentioned "Salt River," to which Frank replied, that Salt River was not large enough; he was "going to Salt Lake." He left in that direction, via the Union Pacific Railroad, at two o'clock, p. m., and has not been heard of since. It is to be hoped he may arrive safe, espouse the cause of Brigham Young, and perhaps be may succeed to a position among the Mormons.

☞ Horatio Seymour made his first speech in Rochester. That city replied by rolling up its first Republican majority for many years. He made his second speech in Buffalo, and that city gave its first Republican majority for ten years. He next spoke in Erie, which added three hundred to its October majority. He then addressed himself to Cleveland, which plumped up an extra thousand upon its October return; then to Chicago, which bounded from one thousand Democratic majority in April to five thousand Republican majority in November. And so on to Indianapolis, Harrisburg, and Great Bend, all of which acknowledged the honor of Mr. Seymour's call by adding hundreds of Republican votes to their October majorities. So much for Horatio's "swing!"

God has transplanted him to bloom in Paradise, where the frosts of sin can never come. His seat is now vacant, his sweet voice is no more heard, he has passed from earth to heaven, and has become an angel of light. Rest, dear one, rest. An Indian Captive.

Four Years Among the Savages----A Strange Story.

The Colorado Tribune has the following strange story: We saw at the Planters' House yesterday a woman named Lizzie Blackburn, a native of Mount Jackson, South Carolina, who claims to have been a prisoner among different tribes of Indians about four years. She is now 28 years old, and is a cripple from the loss of both of her limbs, which have been amputated twice; the first time at the ankle joints, and again about three inches below the knee. Her story of her capture and imprisonment is about as follows, commencing with how she came to be in the Indian country:—When she was five years old her father, Thomas Blackburn, emigrated from South Carolina, and joined the Mormons at Nauvoo, Illinois. He accompanied them to Florence, Nebraska, and finally emigrated to Utah, with the earliest emigrants, and preached among them. In 1863 or 1864, the father, having become somewhat dissipated, and having for some time been accustomed to living among the Mormon Indians, Lizzie and her mother and two younger sisters, aged respectively ten and fourteen years, concluded to run away from him and the Mormons, and if possible reach California. They took with them only what they could pack about their persons, and with a rifle and some ammunition started westward from Salt Lake, wandered for nine months, when they were captured by the Digger Indians. Lizzie was sold by the Diggers to the Foxes. The mother and two remaining sisters when they learned of Lizzie's sale ran away from the Diggers and were pursued. When found they had starved and frozen to death, and were buried on Horse Creek. The Foxes sold Lizzie to the Snakes. Then she learned of the death of her mother and sisters and saw them buried. She ran away from the Snakes, but was captured. She was badly frozen in the attempt, and was afterwards again frozen. She says that two half-breeds, named Towantinus and Punchanatah, took her to Washington, D. C., where her limbs were amputated, and that she returned to the Snakes by her father's direction, he being among them as a kind of chief at the time. She says that her father has so spent most of his time among the Indians for seven or eight years, and is one of them now. He is with the Arapahoes or Cheyennes. The Snakes traded her to the Arapahoes, from whom she escaped about one year ago, by the assistance of Fred Jones, a Government scout, and was brought into Ellsworth. At the time of her escape the Arapahoes were camped at the big bend of the Arkansas. A portion of the time since her escape she has been engaged as a scout, but for the last two months has been doing housework at a stage station down on the Smoky Hill road.—Fred. Jones, her rescuer, was discharged from the Government employ last spring just before the outbreak down on the Solomon in Kansas, and as he threatened to go with the Indians it was supposed that he was with them at that time. She says she counted one hundred and fifty white men in one Indian camp which she visited while acting in the capacity of a scout, and that there are a great many among all the tribes. The Diggers treated her very roughly. Her father, though, often protected her from severe treatment. She says that she has an uncle living somewhere on the North Platte river and she is now on her way to him. She expected to leave this morning.

Horrors of the Silent System in Prison.

Mr. James Greenwood has published in London a frightful account of the silent system, which is in operation at the Holloway Model Prison in London:

It is an offence for a prisoner to speak one word, and he was never addressed except in whispers, so that he may be in prison for two years without hearing the natural sound of a human voice! The effect of this is so terrible on the mind that prisoners will speak out in desperation at the risk of any punishment, rather than endure that horrible silence.

The prisoners never see one another, but remain in perpetual solitude. One poor wretch, driven to desperation by nine months' solitude and silence, recklessly broke out in Mr. Greenwood's presence in the words:—"For God's sake governor, put me in another cell! Put me somewhere else! I have counted the bricks in the cell I am in till my eyes ache!"

The request of the tortured wretch was refused!

There is a fine hole in each cell, and as the warders wear shoes with India rubber soles, the prisoner can never be sure he is alone.

Those condemned to the treadmill have to ascend twelve hundred steps every alternate twenty minutes for six hours! And this in a place so hot and close that prisoners often lose in perspiration three stone in as many months! Every day the prisoners are taken to a chapel so arranged that they can see no one save the chaplain, and him only through an iron grating—this is the order of devotion observed: "Warders are constantly on the watch lest for a single instant they, through the whole of the service, depart from the rigid rule of 'eyes right.' They must look steadfastly at the preacher; must raise and lower their prayer books with elbows squared and all at once, like soldiers at drill. They may not scrape their feet without having afterwards to explain the movement. They may scarcely wink an eye or sigh without danger of rebuke or punishment. God help them, poor wretches!"

☞At a large party the other evening, while a young lady was playing the piano with peculiar touch, a bystander remarked: "I'd give the world for her fingers." He was greatly taken aback by her prompt reply that he might have the whole hand.

☞Pride increaseth our enemies, but putteth our friends to flight.

☞A man, to speak his mind, must have but two words.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

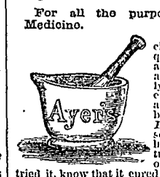
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.



Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of its remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppressiona large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

will quickly restore Gray Hair to its natural color and beauty, and produce luxuriant growth. It is perfectly harmless, and is preferred over every other preparation by those who have a fine head of hair, as well as those who wish to restore it. The beautiful gloss and perfume imparted to the Hair make it desirable for old and young.

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH, BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR,

And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries.—No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivaled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of endorsing approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever offered in this country and is warranted free from all poisonous substances. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing and refreshing.—When thus used it at once relieves headach.
